Innovative Cleaning Programs for Industry

Technology in Cleaners

At TWI, technology drives our cleaning programs. We strive to bring you the latest in specialty cleaning chemical products to meet the growing needs of industry. As your cleaning care needs become more unique, we'll be there with unrivaled products and solutions to solve your problems.

Innovation through Focus

At TWI, we understand the uniqueness of each industrial production facility and each individual cleaning process. Our representatives are trained and dedicated at bringing you the best cleaning program and chemical selection tailored to meet your plant's specific needs.

Our specialization in cleaning programs allows us to concentrate our research efforts in the cleaning care area. Our Chemists have over 50 years of formulating experience in cleaning solutions.

This backbone of experience enables us to review existing and new technologies from a vast number of industrial applications. We apply them to your specific operation in order to provide you with the most innovative cleaning program available.

Specialized Sales and Service

Our focus continues into our sales and service personnel. TWI representatives are equipped to handle all your cleaning needs. First, our representatives survey your facility and applications. We then recommend the best possible solution based on our knowledge and experience. The result is superior service through specialization.

TWI also offers a skilled team of technicians able to safely and effectively complete your chemical cleaning projects. That's correct - we can do turnkey cleaning jobs with our OSHA-trained workforce. By using our capable, trained, and experienced team, we can conduct economical cleaning projects throughout your facility.

Customized Solutions

Customized solutions bring the TWI approach full circle. Our personnel take a consultative approach to troubleshooting your cleaning needs and industrial processes. We work with your personnel to bring you the very best and most economical cleaning solutions possible.

Dedicated for the Future

We strive towards excellence. Our core belief is to "do the right thing" with respect to our customers, employees and community. Our vision is consistent with environmental "green" initiatives and energy conservation in all aspects of our business.
